

		Technology Integration
NAME	Angela Lovely C. Gonzales
TITLE	A Lesson Plan in Philosophy of the Human Person Grade 11 1 st Grading
DLC	1.3 Realize that philosophy is important in having a broad perspective on life.
OBJECTIVES	At the end of the lesson the students will be able to: COGNITIVE: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> analyze the value of philosophy. AFFECTIVE <ul style="list-style-type: none"> appreciate the value of philosophy through sharing experiences. BEHAVIORAL: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> demonstrate understanding about the value of philosophy.
TOPIC	The Value of Philosophy
VALUES TO BE DEVELOPED	Critical Thinking
REFERENCE	Introduction to the Philosophy of the Human Person
MATERIALS	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Laptop LCD Projector
MAIN ACTIVITY	According to Trevor Curnow, in his book, Philosophy for everyday life a practical guide, "Philosophy invites us to examine our lives, and offers us the means of doing so. By becoming more aware of what we believe, we can challenge our beliefs and, if we wish, change them." This is what we mean by Socratic Steps. Reflect and answer the following questions below:	Edmodo

	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. We can know ourselves. We can use our reason to examine our unconscious beliefs and values. What are some of my personal experiences that will identify my beliefs and values? 2. We can know ourselves. We can use our reason to change our beliefs. This will change our emotions, because our emotions follow our beliefs. What are the things that I want to change about myself? 3. We can unconsciously create new habits of thinking, feeling, and acting. What are the new habits that I will employ to myself to change my old habits?
ANALYSIS	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. How do you find the activity? 2. What do you think are the questions all about? 3. Why do you think we have to spend time answering these questions? 4. Is it necessary to ask yourself questions? 5. What is the relevance of asking oneself questions? 	Cram.com (Flashcard)
ABSTRACTION		Popplet.com (Mindmap)
APPLICATION	Direction: List down all the questions you have been pondering about life	Penzu: https://penzu.com
	Direction: Write T if the statement is true and F if it is false. __1. Philosophy is the same as science and religion. __2. The real value of philosophy starts with the act of asking question. __3. Nicomachean Ethics would tell us about the true meaning of happiness. __4. Philosophy encourages us to examine different phenomenon. __5. Socrates was able to open the mind of the youth through the activity of philosophizing. ANSWERS: 1. F 2. T 3. T 4. F 5. T	Google Forms

	Direction: Answer the question below. 1. What is the importance of philosophy in one's life?
ASSIGNMENT	Let the students answer the question "WHO AM I?" Furthermore, let them explain the importance of asking that question.	Goformative.com